The Land ~ The Sea ~ The People
Larry S. Lau

Overview of ANCSA Land & Resource Management

Dimond Center Hotel (Anchorage, Alaska) 8:30 am - 5:00 pm

Larry Lau's multi-step plan to greater understanding of ANCSA and 14(c) obligations, and guidance for improved management of ANCSA lands. Great overview for new staff, people new to your organization, or Board of Directors. Ideal for anyone concerned about, responsible for, or impacted by the management of ANCSA lands owned by regional and village corporations, and Native groups. Attendees are introduced to the most critical subjects involved. People in day-to-day management, Board and Council members, City and realty staff, Borough, State, and Federal representatives benefit. Private sector surveyors, planners and architects gain exposure to business opportunities and may earn continuing education credits.

Instructor Larry Lau has over 48 years of Alaskan experience, primarily working with ANCSA village and regional corporations---both for-profit and non-profit; and tribal governments. He has worked as a village corporation Land Manager, a regional corporation Resource Manager, a regional planner, a research assistant in natural resources at the University of Alaska, an instructor at Alaska Pacific University, and a consultant. He has also resided in rural Alaska.
